

Pediatric Growth Hormone Deficiency (GHD)

Advocating for your child and staying connected to the Growth Hormone community

This information is provided for educational purposes only and is not intended to replace discussions with a health care provider. Speak to your treatment team if you have any questions about your child's care.

This content is brought to you by Pfizer.

Stay connected

Patient advocacy groups are excellent sources for information on timely and evolving topics. Some of these associations listed below offer tips and materials you can download:

- Human Growth Foundation
hgfound.org
- The Magic Foundation
magicfoundation.org
- Prader-Willi Syndrome Association USA
pwsausa.org
- Turner Syndrome Foundation
turnersyndrome.foundation.org

These websites are neither owned nor controlled by Pfizer. Pfizer does not endorse and is not responsible for the content or services of these sites.

As your GHD knowledge and experience grows, you might find yourself wanting to connect more with others. Here are some tips that may help you stay connected to other caregivers in the growth hormone community:

- Meet with your child's school nurse or people in your child's classroom, religious organization, daycare center, or people at other establishments that your child frequents to help inform them about your child's GHD
- Get involved in association-sponsored fun runs or walks
- If comfortable, take a moment to share your child's story with other parents or family members

Ready? Set? Get Social

Staying connected and hearing from others in the GHD community may empower you to share your story.

- Look for and join local support groups to connect with people who will understand the challenges that you face
- Share your story with your followers on Instagram, Facebook, TikTok, and Twitter
- Update your profile picture on social media with an "I support" ribbon

Dream Big For GHD

For more than 25 years, Pfizer has been supporting the needs of the growth hormone community. Pfizer continues to seek innovative ways to optimize the treatment of growth disorders.

For more information and additional resources to educate yourself and your community on GHD, please visit

DreamBigForGHD.com

Patient Affairs Liaisons are a team of non-sales, non-promotional field-based professionals. Pfizer's Patient Affairs Liaisons are dedicated to serving the rare disease community by connecting patients and caregivers with Pfizer Rare Disease tools, including educational resources, access support, and community events in your area.

Visit www.pfizerpal.com to connect with your Patient Affairs Liaison.